How to get to BASIS - together!

"Chi va piano, va lontano e va sano."
Who goes slowly, goes far, and stays well.

Slow travel is a thing.

We want to encourage you to see the travel time to BASIS as part of the experience.

BASIS is well connected by public transport, and there are several nearby airports. Travel time from there, by public transport ranges from about 3.5 to 5 hours. That might sound long, but think about what that time could mean:

a moment for reflection, a meeting, time to read, write, or rest, even time to do nothing at all.

Sometimes the most useful thing you can do is, to slow down, take a step back.

As Activists, we spend a lot of time up close to the problems, the crisis, the urgency, the injustice.

Perspective matters - a change of pace, of landscape, a train ride, a walk. To change your point of view, your perception, your way of thinking. To remember why we do what we do.

We assure you, it will be worth it

Conference Kick-off in Bolzano

The opening of TEH#102 will take place on Thursday, 22nd at 3 pm at Museion in Bolzano. By starting the conference there, we not only want to engage with South Tyrol's capital, but also make travel easier for everyone.

After the opening, we'll travel together by train to Silandro — a relaxed, sustainable journey and a great way to begin the conference in the spirit of our community.

Good to know:

Hotel guests in South Tyrol receive the Südtirol Guest Pass, which allows free travel on regional public transport, including trains and buses, without the need for an additional ticket:

Connection Silandro ↔ Bolzano

There is only one route connecting these two places, and it always goes through the city of Merano.

- Public transport Options:
 - By regional train (Vinschgerbahn) → You will need to change trains in Merano.
 - By bus: Bus 201 for BOL-MER + Bus 251 for MER - Silandro
 - Duration: approximately 1 hour 30 minutes.
- By Car:
 - MEBO (SS38) expressway between Bolzano and Merano, then continue SS38 state road through Vinschgau Valley
 - Duration: ~1 hour (depending on traffic)

TRAVEL GUIDE

Airports around South Tyrol

Country	Airport Name	IATA Code
Italy	Bolzano / Bozen Airport	BZO
Italy	Verona Villafranca Airport	VRN
Italy	Milan Bergamo Airport (Orio al Serio)	BGY
Italy	Milan Malpensa Airport	MLP
Italy	Venice Marco Polo Airport	VCE
Austria	Innsbruck Airport	INN
Germany	Munich Airport	MUC
Switzerland	Zurich Airport	ZRH

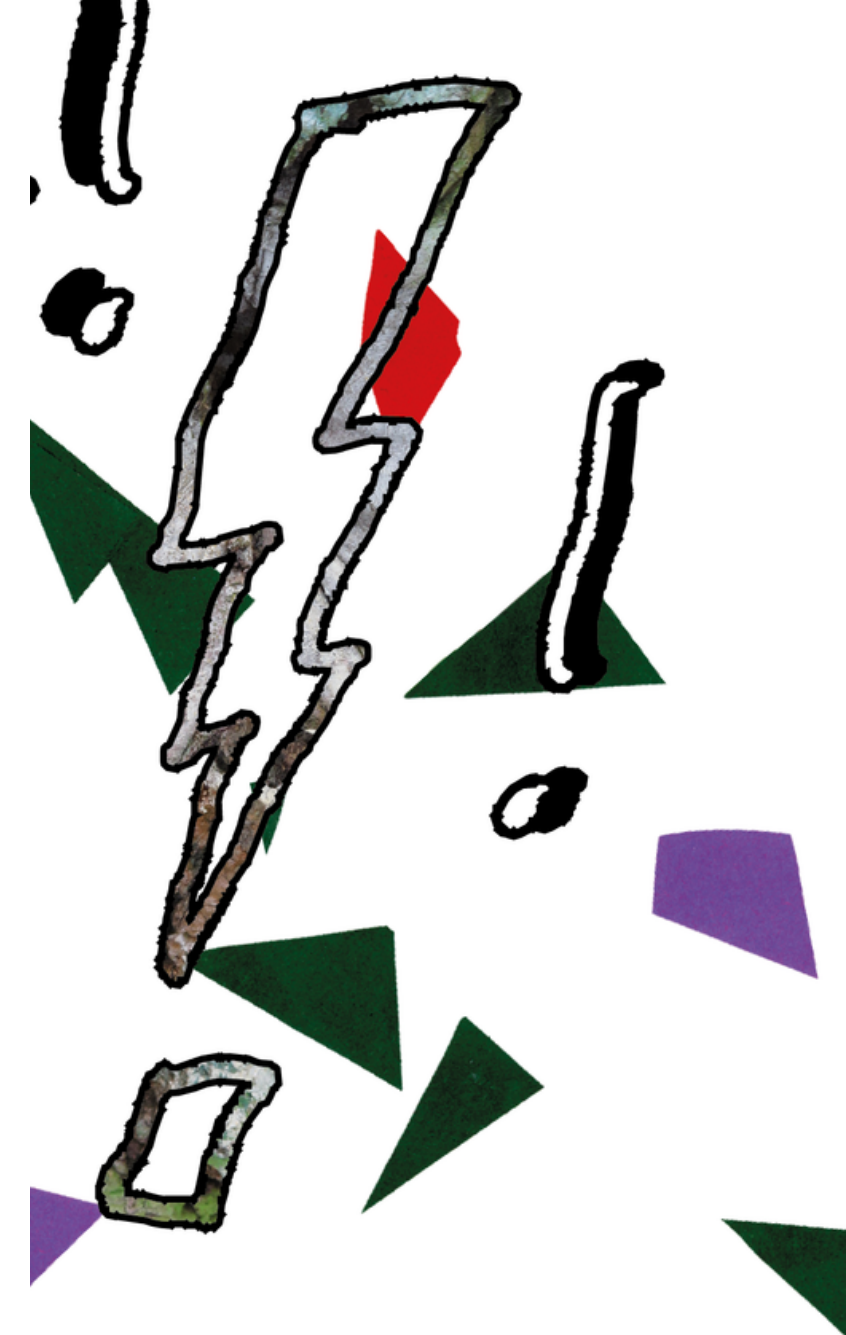

This map has been created with AI to give you a general overview of the nearby airports; please note that the locations and distances are not strictly to scale.

Getting to Silandro (from airports)

Depending on your starting point, you will enter the Vinschgau valley from the West or the South.

- From the North/West (Reschen Pass): Best if coming from Zurich (ZRH), Munich (MUC) or Innsbruck (INN).
 - Public Transport: Train to Landeck-Zams from all destinations, then Bus 273 over the mountain pass to Malles and then Regional train to Silandro.
 - Duration: ~3.5h (from INN) or ~5-6h (from MUC, ZRH).
 - By Car: Drive via the Reschenpass to enter the Vinschgau Valley directly.
- From the South (Italy): If you arrive from Verona, Milan, or Venice, you will always reach Bolzano first.
 - Please refer to the next slide for the specific connection from Bolzano to Silandro.

Getting to Bolzano (from airports)

To reach Bolzano, you will arrive via one of two directions:

1. From the North (Brenner Pass):

- Train: Direct EuroCity (EC) trains from Munich, Innsbruck, or Zurich cross the Brenner Pass.
- Duration: INN: approx. 2h or from MUC / ZRH: approx. 4.5h
- Car: Use the A13 (Austria) and A22 (Italy) motorways.
- Note: You need a Vignette for Austria and there is an extra toll for the Brenner Pass (~€11.50).

2. From the South:

- Train: High-speed (Frecciarossa) or regional trains from Verona, Milan, or Venice. (1.5–3.5 hours)
- Car: Take the A22 motorway North (Autostrada del Brennero).

Good to Know

SIGHTSEEING Tips in Schlanders

- Waalwege – ancient irrigation paths through apple orchards and vineyards, perfect for scenic walks
- Sonnenberg trails – dry, sunny slopes on the south-facing side of the valley, ideal for panoramic hikes
- Schlandersberg Castle ruins – hike uphill for sunset views and castle atmosphere
- Stilfserjoch National Park Visitor Center (in nearby Prad) – great for learning about Alpine wildlife and geology

Italy is part of the EU and Schengen, so non-EU citizens may experience passport control at the borders. Please check VISA requirements for countries outside the EU.

- Card: Debit and credit cards (Visa, Maestro, Mastercard) are accepted in most places (restaurants, shops, supermarkets).
- Cash: Cash is still preferred in some smaller cafés, mountain huts, and farmers markets, so it is good to carry some Euro cash.

Bike or scooter rental

In and around Schlanders, biking is one of the best ways to explore the area. The Etschtalradweg (Via Claudia Augusta) runs directly through Schlanders and connects you to the entire Vinschgau valley – perfect for day trips to nearby villages!

Recommended rental spot:
Papin Sport – located near the train stations (bike return possible in other towns)

Local Transport: The Schlanders Citybus

For easy travel within Schlanders and its surrounding villages (Kortsch, Göflan, and Vetzan), we recommend using the Citybus (Line 263).

- Cost: If you are staying at one of our partner hotels, you will likely receive the Südtirol Guest Pass, which allows you to use the Citybus for free. Simply validate your pass at the blue machines when boarding. If you do not have a pass, a single ride costs approximately €1.00 (or €0.65 with a local prepaid card).
- Frequency: The bus runs regularly from Monday to Saturday, typically every 30 to 60 minutes during the day. It connects the main train station with the town center, the hospital, and the local districts.

It is a convenient way to reach the venue or explore the area without a car. You can find the live timetable on the südtirolmobil app or website.
